“That test totally raped me!”

rape (verb) -
    to force to have sexual intercourse

What were you trying to say?
    That test was tough!
    so hard!
    impossible!

Think about the power your words can carry.

Using the word “rape” casually minimizes the experience for rape victims. It can keep victims quiet and allow perpetrators to get away with a crime, sending the message that we as a community tolerate sexual assault.
